Lexington unveils Villa Blanca by Barclay Butera The Essence of Resort Living on the Mediterranean Coast

HIGH POINT, NC – Lexington Home Brands is delighted to announce the highly anticipated launch of Villa Blanca, the company’s seventh lifestyle collaboration with acclaimed designer Barclay Butera. The collection effortlessly blends classic European styling with the breezy sun-soaked ambiance of destinations that line the Mediterranean. The new collection will debut at the High Point Market, October 13-18, 2023, in the Lexington Home Brands showroom at 1300 National Highway. A launch party celebrating the introduction will be held from 4:00-7:00 pm on Sunday October 15th in the Lexington showroom.

“From Capri to Santorini to Ibiza, there’s something captivating about fresh white facades and classic architecture against the azure blue waters of the Mediterranean,” said Phil Haney, President and CEO of Lexington Home Brands. “The look is both timeless and timely with respect to the priority our consumers place on today’s sophisticated view of relaxed luxury travel and living. Barclay’s talent for interpreting traditional forms in a contemporary fashion is evident in the striking white finish on elegant carvings. We recognize a need in the marketplace for an aesthetic grounded in classic styling while delivering a dramatic designer look.”

Designs in Villa Blanca feature a refined European provenance, with impeccable carving details and elegant turnings brought to life with the application of a chic polo mallet white finish. Generous scaling and statement hardware in antique silver convey an artfully curated look to the portfolio. Accent elements include Carrara marble, antiqued mirror, decorative cane and custom leather-clad pieces.

“When it comes to travel and inspiration, I’ve always been drawn to coastal destinations,” said Barclay Butera. “They offer a soothing and restorative influence that cannot be replicated. The islands and enclaves that line the Mediterranean – from Spain to France to Italy to Greece – are distinctly different from those in the Americas and Asia. They’re deeply rooted in the rich history, architecture and traditions of Europe. I simply love the unique fusion of classic forms and vibrant colors, set against the soothing backdrop of the sea. Villa Blanca was designed to capture the essence of that refined lifestyle. The soft white finish draws the eye to traditional carvings while inviting the use of vibrant colors in correlated textiles to create a show-stopping look. It’s a designer’s dream.”

The third features a seductive turquoise floral embroidery reminiscent of the lush Aegean landscape. Exquisite tailoring is evident in exceptional designs that offer generous scaling and luxurious seating comfort.

Lexington will be hosting a special event to celebrate the Villa Blanca launch in their showroom on Sunday October 15th from 4:00 until 7:00 pm. No RSVP is required.
